

Shauna Parker – Speaker Biography

Shauna Parker is a full-time Christian speaker, author of Everything Is a Decision, and a passionate workshop facilitator. Though she began speaking professionally in 2024, she has long been known for her natural ability to encourage, inspire, and speak truth—whether in personal conversations, on her podcast, or from the stage.

Shauna always knew she was called to speak, but it was during one of the darkest seasons of her life—while battling deep depression—that God gave her a vision of herself on stage, using her story to uplift others. That vision became her mission.

Today, Shauna speaks at churches, hosts powerful seminars, and leads workshops that challenge and equip believers to walk in obedience to God—regardless of their past or present circumstances.

She has been featured on 93.5 The Burg and AM 740 WMBG Radio, multiple podcasts, and will be spotlighted in Success Savvy Magazine. As of this writing, she is scheduled to speak at a Global Summit in August 2025, reaching audiences in 127 countries with God's message of leadership through Fenix TV.

Shauna holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Management, is Ziglar trained, and completed Christian Speakers Boot Camp in 2023.

Born and raised in Illinois, Shauna gave her life to Christ at the age of eight. Years later, reading the Bible cover to cover transformed her faith and gave her fresh insight into who God truly is—so much so that she now reads it again and again.

She is married with two children—one grown, and one who thinks he is—and a stepdaughter. Shauna shares openly about her journey from depression to purpose, and from fear of failure to bold obedience.

She's not flashy or fancy—but she's faithful. And when she's speaking God's truth with boldness and compassion, she's exactly where she belongs.
